

CAPANNA MARGHERITA

The highest refuge in Europe, a popular destination for every mountain lover. It is a great excursion in a typical high mountain environment with large glaciers, seracs and wide panoramas.

The effort made during the ascent is amply repaid by one of the largest panoramas in the Alps: from the Marittimes to the Dolomites with the entire Po valley, while to the north the view is lost among more than 40 mountains that exceed the fateful altitude of 4000 metres.

PLAN :

1st day: meeting in the afternoon, equipment check, ascent by cable car to Indren. From here, it takes about an hour and a half to reach the Gnifetti refuge.

2nd day: at 5 in the morning wake up and breakfast. In 5 hours of walking you reach the destination. After a brief stop to rest, refresh yourself and observe the panorama, the descent begins. Return to Alagna by cable car.

The Corpo Guide Alagna Alpinism School has always been committed to the education and prevention of accidents in mountain; these topics will be dealt with in training moments foreseen in the course.
